

About Chris Guerrero:

Chris started his musical journey in the bars on the storied Westside of San Antonio as a pre-teen in his fathers band. After becoming a much sought-after musician in South Texas, he moved on to a decade of residencies in Las Vegas, the world's most exclusive and luxurious cruise lines, five-star hotels in Asia and Europe, and international jazz festivals as a pianist, vocalist, and leader in numerous combos. Upon returning home to San Antonio, Chris is still a highly-prolific musician performing with the city's top talent and numerous recordings on Grammy-nominated albums. In November 2018, Chris released his first full-length album "Paradise Road" to critical acclaim. He cites Oscar Peterson, Bill Evans, Prince, Michael Franks, Stevie Wonder, and Johnny Hartman as some of his primary influences.